Acxius Strategic Consulting Opens Second Office in New Jersey

(Morganville, NJ, April 21, 2008) - Acxius Strategic Consulting, a consulting company that provides full lifecycle, high value, end-to-end business solutions with SME teams from the U.S. and India, announced today the opening of its new office in Morganville, New Jersey. The new Acxius New Jersey office will house several employees and be a planning and project management hub for the company.

With a successful, 8-year history as a high-technology professional services company in the U.S., Acxius has been operating from headquarters in Parlin, New Jersey. The company's system integration solutions are used in large and medium sized environments, and its customers - primarily Global 2000 businesses - are among the world's largest users of information technology.

"Many communities in New Jersey were reviewed, but we decided to move our operations to the Morganville, NJ area. We chose to remain and grow our businesses in New Jersey because we believe that both the centralized location and the economy in New Jersey are attractive. More so, our employees enjoy a good quality of life here," stated Biswa Bhattacharya, Acxius Founder, CEO.

Acxius, which has employees worldwide, also has a facility in Connecticut, as well as Pune India.
